OBJECTIVE

Dedicated and imaginative writer with a passion for fictional storytelling. I aim to develop a substantial body of work leading to a publishable manuscript, gain experience in teaching and mentoring to prepare for a potential career in academia or literary education, and build a network within the literary community to support my growth as a writer and future professional opportunities.

EXPERIENCE

Assistant Editor

SPRING 2024

Worked with a staff of 24 individuals to produce Lindenwood University's undergraduate online literary journal. Collaborated with editorial staff to determine online theme. Critically analyzed and discussed submitted work, both written and verbally. Designed marketing pieces for social media to encourage student submissions to the journal. Supported social media campaign for Arrow Rock submissions and the release date.

Student Advisor - Boy Scouts Playwriting Workshop

SPRING 2024

Read, analyzed, and provided feedback to short plays written by Scouts ages 8-15 under the supervision of Lindenwood University staff in a workshop setting. Assisted in instructing Scouts on the history, structure, and significance of playwriting.
